3.4. Journal

Content > Journal

The Journal is a tool with which you can record your thoughts and experiences online. By adding your journal or individual posts of it to a page you can allow other users to place feedback and comments on it. Thus, you can create a dialogue with your audience.

Per default, every user has one journal available. You can also have multiple journals.

The screenshot shows a journal titled "The Crazy and Curious". At the top right, there are buttons for "New entry" (3) and "Settings" (4). Below the title is a description: "Learning is about discovery and you can only discover new things when you are curious and do things out of the ordinary." (2). The first entry is titled "What I learned at Kiwicon" (5) and is in "Draft" status. It has a "Publish" button (8) and an "Edit" button (10). The entry text is "Kiwicon took place in Wellington from 5-6 November 2011. It was already the second time that I attended this hacker conference..." (6). The creation date is "Posted on Sunday, 20 November 2011, 5:37 PM" (7). The second entry is titled "Ignite and Nerdnite" (9) and is in "Published" status. It has an "Unpublish" button (9) and a "Delete" button (11). The entry text is "Ignite and Nerdnite are two events that have made their way to Wellington. They are evenings filled with presentations that make you think and laugh...". The creation date is "Posted on Sunday, 20 November 2011, 5:39 PM".

Overview of a journal with journal entries

1. Journal title
2. Journal description (optional)
3. Click the New entry button to create a new entry in this journal.
4. Click the Settings button to change certain journal settings (see below).
5. Title of the journal entry
6. Beginning of the journal entry
7. Creation date of the journal entry
8. If a journal entry is labelled Draft, only you can view it. You can then click the Publish button to publish this entry to your journal for others to see when it is included in a page.
9. If a journal entry is labelled Published, you can click the Unpublish button to revert it back to draft status.
10. Click the Edit button  to make changes to your journal entry.
11. Click the Delete button  to delete your journal entry.

3.4.1. Change your journal settings

You can change the title of your default journal (and all others if you have enabled multiple journals) and add a description as well as tags.

The screenshot shows the 'Journal settings' interface. At the top, the title 'The Crazy and Curious' is entered in a text box, with a circled '2' next to it. Below the title is a description field containing the text 'Learning is about discovery and you can only discover new things when you are curious and do things out of the ordinary.', with a circled '3' next to it. The description field has a rich text editor toolbar above it. Below the description is a 'Path' field with the value 'p'. The 'Tags' section has a 'Show my tags' button and an empty text input field, with a circled '4' next to the input field. Below the tags is a 'License' dropdown menu set to 'Creative Commons Attribution Share Alike 3.0', with a circled '5' next to it. At the bottom, there is a link for 'Advanced licensing' with a circled '6' next to it, and two buttons: 'Save settings' and 'Cancel', with a circled '7' next to the 'Save settings' button.

Journal settings

1. Click on the Settings button of your journal.
2. Title: Change the title of your journal. This is a mandatory field.
3. Description: Add a description for your journal. You can format it as you wish.
4. Tags: Add tags to your journal for easier searching later on. Separate each tag with a comma. You may also choose tags from the ones that you have created previously by clicking on Show my tags and then clicking on the tags you want to use.
5. License: Choose the license for the journal. You can set your default license in your account settings.
6. Advanced licensing: If you click it, you see two additional license fields, "Licensor" and "Original URL", that you can fill in if this is not your own journal.
7. Click the Save settings button to save your changes or the Cancel button to abort your changes.

3.4.2. Add a journal entry

All journal entries you make are private to you until you put them into a page. Thus, the publishing of a journal / journal entry is a three-step process:

1. You write your entry and save it.
2. In a page, you choose one of the journal blocks that suits your purpose best.
3. You give those who shall see that page access to it.

Post your journal entry by following the steps below.

Journal entry

1. In your journal, click on New entry.
2. Title: Provide a title for your journal entry that expresses what you are writing about. This field is mandatory.
3. Entry: You must also write some text, add pictures etc. The visual editor helps you format your journal entry. This field is mandatory.
4. Tags: Add tags to your journal for easier searching later on. Separate each tag with a comma. You may also choose tags from the ones that you have created previously by clicking on Show my tags and then clicking on the tags you want to use.
5. License: Choose the license for the journal entry. You can set your default license in your account settings.
6. Advanced licensing: If you click it, you see two additional license fields, “Licensor” and “Original URL”, that you can fill in if this is not your own journal entry.
7. Attachments: Add an attachment or more to your journal entry, e.g. PDF files associated with it or images. You can add files either from your files area or upload new ones directly onto your journal entry.
8. Draft: Mark your entry as draft if you have not finished it yet. This is especially helpful if you have published your journal in a page, but do not want anybody to read this particular entry (yet). It is always visible to you, but not others.
9. Allow comments: Check this box if you want to receive comments on the journal entry.
10. Click the Save button to save your entry or the Cancel button to abort your changes.

3.4.3. Add a file as attachment to a journal entry

When you attach files directly to a journal entry, others can see them whenever they have access to the journal entry.

The screenshot displays the 'Attachments' interface. At the top, there is a table with columns 'Name' and 'Description'. The first row shows 'happy.png' with the description 'Smiling stick figure next to computer' and a 'Remove' button. Below this is a detailed view of the selected file, 'happy.png', which includes a 'Close' button (9), a 'License' dropdown menu (2) set to 'Creative Commons Attribution Share Alike 3.0', a 'Licensor' text input field (3), an 'Original URL' text input field (4), an 'Upload file' section with a 'Browse...' button (5) and 'No files selected.' text, and a checkbox for 'Automatic resizing of images larger than 1024x1024 px (recommended)' (6). Below the detailed view is a 'Drop files here to upload' zone (7). At the bottom, there is a 'Home' button and a table with columns 'Name', 'Description', 'Size', and 'Date'. The table lists three items: 'images' (Image files, 05/03/2012), 'happy.png' (Smiling stick figure next to computer, 5.4K, 16/09/2012), and 'reading.png' (Stick figure reading a book, 7.6K, 16/09/2012) with a 'Select' button (1).

Attachments for journal entries

1. Click the Add a file button and then the Select button to select the file(s) from your Files area that you wish to attach. Alternatively, you can upload additional files directly.
2. License: Choose the license for the artefact that you are uploading. You can set your default license in your account settings.
3. Licensor: If you are uploading a file that somebody else created, you can attribute the work to them here and provide their name for example.
4. Original URL: If you are uploading somebody else's file, provide a link to the original Internet address so that others can go there and view the original file.
5. Click the Browse button to select a file from your computer to upload.
6. If you wish, you can have your uploaded images resized automatically if they are larger than the recommended size. You can only see this option if the site administrator made the image resizing option available.
7. Instead of clicking the Browse button to upload files, you can drag and drop files from your computer directly onto the "drop zone". You must still observe the maximum file size upload for each file and the maximum total file size cannot be exceeded either.
8. If you attached a file that you do not wish to attach anymore, you can click on the Remove button to take it off your list of attachments.
9. Once you are done, you can click the Close button.

3.4.4. Add an image to a journal entry

You can add images to your journal entry in two ways:

1. Link to the image that is available elsewhere online.
2. Use an image that you have on Mahara.

3.4.4.1. Link to an image online

Images that are freely accessible online are easy to add to a journal entry. However, make sure that you have the permission to use this image in your portfolio.

Link an external image in a journal post

1. Go to the visual editor and click on the Image button .
2. Image URL: Paste or type the image URL into this field. It must start with http:// or https://.
3. Description: Provide a brief description for your image.
4. Alignment: Select the alignment of the image in relation to the text.
5. Dimensions: Change the size of your image. If the image is recognised correctly, you have the image's dimensions displayed.
6. Border: Add a simple black border to your image if you wish to do so.
7. Vertical / Horizontal space: Add more space around the image by adding a number in Vertical space and / or Horizontal space.
8. Click the Insert button. Alternatively, click the Cancel button if you want to abort inserting the image.

The dimensions are given in pixel. The first value is for the width and the second one for the height. Only change one of the dimensions and delete the value from the second to retain the original proportions of the image.

If you are not happy with how the image looks in your journal entry, select it (it will get little square handles) and click on the Image button  again to make adjustments.

3.4.4.2. Add an image from Mahara

Link to an external image in a journal post

1. Go to the visual editor and click on the Image button .
2. Attached image: Select the image that you wish to display. You must have had it attached to the journal entry in order to see it here.
3. Description: Provide a brief description for your image.
4. Alignment: Select the alignment of the image in relation to the text.
5. Dimensions: Change the size of your image. If the image is recognised correctly, you have the image's dimensions displayed.
6. Border: Add a simple black border to your image if you wish to do so.
7. Vertical / Horizontal space: Add more space around the image by adding a number in Vertical space and / or Horizontal space.
8. Click the Insert button. Alternatively, click the Cancel button if you want to abort inserting the image.

If you are not happy with the alignment or the dimensions of the image in your journal entry, select it and click on the Image button  again to make adjustments.

3.4.5. Working with multiple journals

Content > Journals

If you wish to use more journals, e.g. to put your writing into categories for making all posts from one category available in a page without having to select each journal entry, you can go to your Settings and tick the checkbox Multiple journals.

Multiple journals enabled

1. Once you can create multiple journals, click the Create journal button to set up a new journal.
2. All your journals are listed on Content > Journals with their titles and descriptions. The titles link through to the individual journals.
3. You see how many entries you have in each journal.
4. Click the New entry button to create a new journal entry directly from this screen.
5. Click the Settings button  to make changes to your journal title, description or tags.
6. Click the Delete button  to delete the journal and all its entries.

When you click the Delete button, you receive a confirmation message whether you really want to delete the journal or not. Once you agree to delete the journal, your journal and all its content are removed permanently.
